DEER MANAGEMENT PROGRAM UPDATE

Police Chief Jeff VenHuizen presented an overview of the deer hunt. Chief VenHuizen advised that in the fall of 2013, the Rock Island City Council approved the first controlled deer hunt within the City. The Chief added that Council limited the number of sites to four private sites and four public sites. It was noted that the hunt started on December 13, 2013 and concluded on January 19, 2014, which coincided with the remainder of the State of Illinois deer hunting season.

Chief VenHuizen explained that during the process, there were approximately 45 hunters that applied to hunt on either a private property site, public property site or both. The Chief added that there were a total of 12 private property sites submitted for consideration and four sites were chosen. It was noted that six hunters were granted permission to hunt on those private sites. The Chief commented that there were two public sites located at Highland Springs and Saukie Golf Course, and one cemetery site at Memorial Park. Chief VenHuizen further discussed the public sites.

Chief VenHuizen stated that during the course of the hunt, six deer were harvested, which included five does and one buck. Chief VenHuizen indicated that after the hunting period, a meeting was held to gather feedback from the hunters on their experience and to identify challenges and offer suggestions on ways to improve the program for possible future hunts. Chief VenHuizen pointed out that the overwhelming suggestion was to expand the program to coincide with the entire deer hunting season. Chief VenHuizen stated that the reasoning behind this suggestion was due to the limited time of the program and the weather. Chief VenHuizen advised that the trial program was successful; there were no safety issues raised and there were no citizen-hunter encounters. Chief VenHuizen stated that the trial period has shown that a deer management program can be safely implemented and managed. The Chief recommended expanding the program.

Council discussed this item as it related to the recommendation of expanding the program for a full hunting season for 2014/2015 and the recommendation of increasing fees. Deputy Police Chief Jason Foy discussed private sites as it related to the amount of hunters allowed on those sites.

Sheila Guse of 4020 29th Avenue stated that she hoped in the future that the area for hunting could be expanded to include her neighborhood. Ms. Guse was appreciative of what Council has done this year in regards to the deer program.
